THE HORSE.

The horse has one leg on each corner. It weighs from eight to twenty hundred pounds. It has ears like a cow, it is large, and has a long neck, long main, and tail. It has a large head, large eyes and large mouth, and a foretop. It has a nose, gullet, windpipe, heart, lungs, kidneys, spleen, liver, muscles, nerves and blood. It kicks, bites, eats grass, straw, hay, oats, and pulls the grass up with its teeth. It is useful when men are working. When logging the horse draws them for the man, when he is seeding the horse draws the seeder along. When he is plowing, dragging or cultivating the horse draws the plow, drag or cultivator. When a man wants to go away the horse draws the wagon. When he is drawing stones the horse will draw the stone-boat. It can run fast, walk fast and canter fast.

Roseburg Sunday School Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Roseburg Sunday school was held at Roseburg on Friday, June 25th. The weather was all that could be desired, neither too warm nor too cold. There was a large attendance, several different schools being well represented. Financially it was also a success. There can not be too much credit attached to the Brockway Centre band, as they were promptly on duty at the sound of the bugle. Their playing was grand, their time would compare with the best of them, while they seemed not at a loss for something to play when called upon, which they were quite often, and we feel confident that if such services are needed again, we need not look elsewhere for a band. Our visiting schools assisted us with pieces and with singing, the superintendents also favored us with speeches which helped to make the affair a success. Our pastor Rev. C. W. Barnum, offered prayer and made a speech. Rev. Hooper, the Baptist minister and Rev. Crinlin, of Peck, favored us with their presence and also with speeches. Our procession was grand to look at. May we all live to enjoy many more picnics and when we are through laboring for our Master in our Sunday schools, may we be so happy as to meet in Heaven, where we shall reign triumphant with Jesus.

E. G. TENNANT, Superintendent.
